

IN MEMORIAM

Sanjeev Sharma
Professor and Associate Dean (SDAR)
1972-2021

At the start of the year, Prof. Dr Sanjeev Sharma, a successful researcher, skilful scientist, colleague, and friend, is no longer with us. We express our heartfelt sympathies to the Jaypee Institute collegium, to Prof. Sanjeev's associates, and to his beloved wife Prof. Dr Richa Sharma.

Professor Sharma has been professor and associate dean at the Jaypee Institute of Information Technology, Noida, Uttar Pradesh, India. His has mostly been dedicated to scientific areas including nonlinear problems of anisotropic materials in solid mechanics. He has been a researcher and has lectured over 20 years, supervising several PhD candidates, and has authored over one hundred indexed scientific papers and research articles.

In the past eight years, Prof. Sharma has authored several scientific papers/articles published in our journal, including a joint paper with myself, and a paper I have also co-authored with his beloved wife – Dr Richa Sharma. The latest paper written and submitted from Prof. Sharma to the journal has been published in this issue.

In front of the journal Editorial and the Society for Structural Integrity and Life 'Prof. Dr Stojan Sedmak', I humbly express gratitude to the late Prof. Dr Sanjeev Sharma regarding his lengthy and continuous commitment to the journal, and the co-authorship I personally had the honour to experience. ... there are no goodbyes for us, wherever you are, you shall always be in our hearts

Prof. Dr Zoran Radaković
